Nation Is Shivering in Severe Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freezing, shivering March breeze in for a 31-day stand today and topped temperatures to record lows for the first day of the month across broad areas of the nation's midsection.

The late-winter cold spell of sub-zero weather held tight from Montana into Illinois. Temperatures dropped to 40 below zero in Bemidji, Minn., and in to 20-35 below zero range in other parts of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Iowa.

The Weather Bureau reported that sub-zero and freezing weather covered more than 50 per cent of the country. The southern border and coastal regions were the only sections out of the cold air belt.

The arctic air which dipped into the flood-stricken sections of Kentucky and adjoining states appeared to have lessened the run-offs of rain-swollen rivers and streams. However, thousands of acres of farmland remained inundated in areas in eastern Kentucky and many persons still were unable to return to their flooded homes. Snow flurries flecked areas in middle and eastern Tennessee.

In the frigid northern Midwest, hit by below zero weather for nearly a week, new low marks for March 1 were set in many cities. The mercury plunged to -35 in International Falls, Minn., and to -32 in Minneapolis, the coldest March 1 on record.

In Iowa it was -29 in Waterloo and -20 in Des Moines while South Dakota reported a reading of -29 in Aberdeen. In northern Illinois, Bradford reported -10 and it was -6 in suburban areas of Chicago. In the Kentucky flood region, a mudslide careened off a 500-foot hill Wednesday night in Hazard, destroying a new six-unit apartment under construction. Damage was estimated at $200,000. More than 100 families were forced from their homes in Frankfort, the capital city, by the flooding Kentucky River. Gov. Bert Connel has asked President Kennedy to declare 16 eastern Kentucky counties major disaster areas so federal aid could be given.

Flood water also appeared receding in areas in West Virginia, Tennessee and Ohio.

ESD Administrator J. L. Bland said Martin was the first Negro hired by the state in a white collar job since Reconstruction.

Martin, who served on the Hot Springs City Council in 1955-56, will advise local ESD offices on problems of workers in minority groups, Bland said.

The job pays $5,400 a year.

Reports U. S. Will Revive Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Well-informed officials said today President Kennedy has decided to go ahead with a series of nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere. They indicated the shots will not start until April.

Kennedy, these informants said, will announce his basic decision in a report to the nation Friday night over national television and radio networks. The plans were worked out Wednesday and were reported holding firm today.

Kennedy said earlier that by the end of February he would know how much ground the Soviet Union gained by its fall series of atmospheric tests and he would then be in a position to make a decision.

But an air of mystery had surrounded the timing of the announcement.

Wednesday the White House declined to say if the President had made up his mind. But there was a hint something was in the wind when his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, left for an unannounced trip to New York.

The White House did not reveal the reason for Salinger's trip. Presumably he went to New York to make arrangements for the television broadcast.

The President, sources indicated, is determined to remove any uncertainty about U.S. testing plans before the 18-nation Geneva disarmament conference opens March 14.

This is the conference Soviet Premier Khrushchev insisted should be launched with a summit meeting—a proposal that was turned down by the United States, Britain and most of the other nations that are to attend. The West urged that a meeting of foreign ministers should start off the disarmament conference.

Khrushchev, U.S. officials said Wednesday night, will do everything possible to make the United States pay a heavy propaganda price for any atmospheric tests.

In his latest note to Washington, the Soviet premier urged Kennedy not to resume the atmospheric tests, saying a new round would raise doubts about Kennedy's sincerity in disarmament negotiations.

He also renewed his threat that if the Western powers conduct tests, the Soviet Union would resume its testing.

Kennedy said his decision on testing would be made only on the grounds of military necessity.

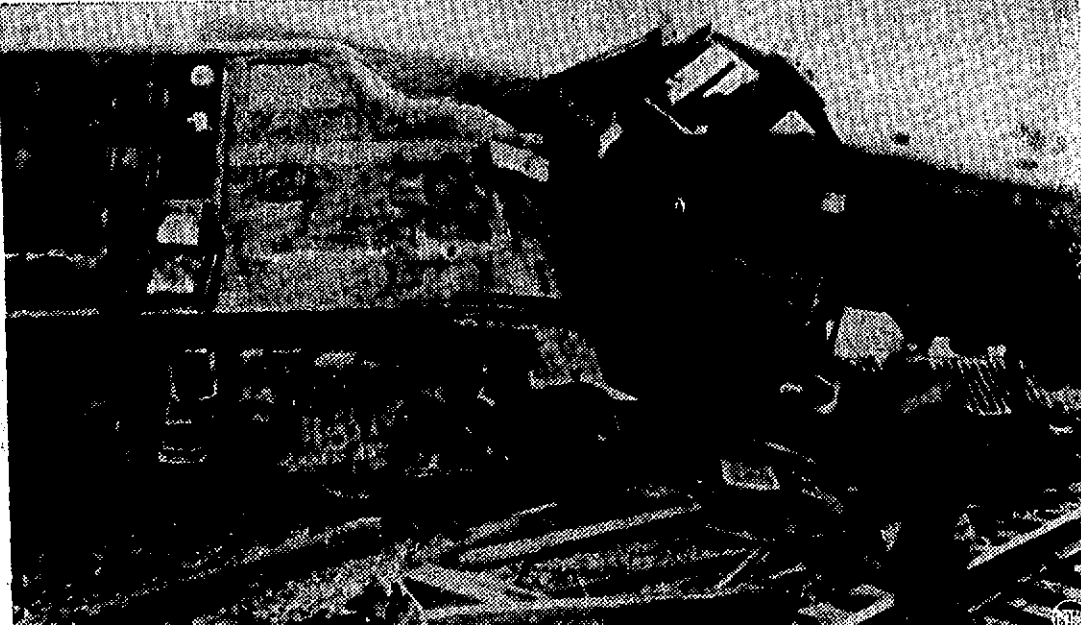

If the decision was to test, he said, it would be to protect the security of the nation and the Allies—security that some U.S. officials and congressmen fear was threatened by the Soviet Union string of nuclear bursts last fall.

Then the Soviet Union broke an informal test moratorium by setting off about 50 explosions, all but one in the atmosphere, and climaxed by a mammoth explosion of 55-60 megatons.

Kennedy ordered the United States to begin fallout-free underground testing while government agencies studied what gains the Soviets made in their nuclear explosions.

March Comes in Chilly in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

March arrived in chilly Arkansas today with a promise of warmer weather.

The warming trend was scheduled to start in the northwest today and spread over the state by Friday.

Meanwhile, Arkansas shivered under sub-freezing temperatures again Wednesday night.

The state's low was eight degrees at Harrison — one degree above Tuesday night's low of seven at Beaver. Little Rock's low of 21 was five degrees over the March 1 record of 16.

Scattered and very light snow flurries were reported at Little Rock today and at Pine Bluff and Clarendon Wednesday night, but no snow or sleet was in the forecast.

Spring weather was interrupted a week ago by thunderstorms and heavy rains which sent secondary rivers above or near flood stage. An ice storm which glazed the northern section followed the rains Tuesday.

High water covered some roads early in the week, but State Police reported all highways open today. River flooding posed no immediate danger to inhabited areas.

State and City Police are investigating.

Jet Airliner Crashes After Takeoff, 95 Persons Are Killed

Space Hero Welcomed by Huge Parade

NEW YORK (AP)—John Glenn, America's hero of outer space, rode up spaceless Manhattan today in a titanic thunder of cheers and a torrent of confetti.

Up the canyons of lower Broadway—where Lindbergh and Byrd and Ederle had gone before him—came the beaming, freckled Marine. The motorcade began from Bowling Green at 12:10 p.m.

Brother Tells President About Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy has reported to his brother, the President, on his round the world flying trip.

The attorney general returned Wednesday, looking tanned and weary, and told newsmen he found a vast potential of good will for America but that it might be developed.

He declined to say what special points he covered in his talk with the President but added he was lunching today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and would go into more detail then.

Kennedy said that particularly among students and intellectuals there are "a great many reservations about our position, what we do in the United States, our policies."

Many of these reservations, he said, are based on misunderstandings and factual inaccuracies—but many of them can be straightened out.

And many of the reservations, said Kennedy, are based on what the Communist party says about the United States, and the Communists have vocal, very determined people who, he said, have sold the idea that the United States has made no progress for 100 years.

One way to straighten out the misconceptions, said the attorney general, would be for others to undertake a trip such as he and his wife made, to bring more people to this country, to get other nations into an exchange to bolster the Voice of America.

"We haven't done the work we should be doing," said Kennedy.

Officials of Hope Named in Lawsuit

Harry Shiver, local plumber, yesterday filed a taxpayers suit against the Hope City Manager and the Board of Directors seeking to restrain them from giving plumbing inspector fees to W. M. Ramsey, city inspector.

The suit charges that Mr. Ramsey is not eligible to be a plumbing inspector under the present ordinance which says any inspector must have 10 years practical experience to qualify as an inspector.

The suit charges that giving various fees collected from city plumbers to an unqualified inspector is therefore wasteful and asks the Court to prevent this "wasting of funds." F. C. Crow is attorney for the plaintiff.

Ruling Asked on Other Contracts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office was asked Wednesday to rule on the validity of three state printing contracts held by White County Printing Co., whose owner is a state official.

State Auditor Jimmie Jones sought the ruling in light of Monday's Arkansas Supreme Court decision invalidating 15 such contracts held by Parkin Printing Co., whose president, Harry Parkin, is a member of the state Highway Commission.

Ralph Van Meter of Judson, a member of the board of the Negro Boys Industrial School, owns the White County firm, which holds three contracts worth $7,400, loans and grants.

Betty Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Bryant, left today for Pine Bluff where she will serve as page to Mrs. Arthur Wimmell at the 54th annual state convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution. An honor student, Betty has been very active in school affairs.

4 Sentenced in Hempstead Circuit Court

In Hempstead Circuit Court today Judge Lyle Brown sentenced three men in connection with thefts of material from Wylie Glass & Salvage Co. and from Electronic Enterprises. All were charged with burglary and one, Chester Lester Stroud, 30, is free on bond pending trial.

Glenn A. Schee, Calvin Franklin Jackson and Johnny Carl Hendricks Jr. entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced to five years each on all counts with 3 1/2 years suspended.

In other action Robert Hickman, given three years previously on a charge of forgery, had his sentence revoked on recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weisenberger.

By 11 a.m., the report from Coast Guardsmen at the scene was: "There is now only floating, smoking debris in the water."

Police at Idlewild said at the same time: "Apparently there were no survivors."

The crash scene was about three miles from the Idlewild control tower.

The crew of a Mohawk Airlines plane that had taken off immediately after the Astrojet witnessed the crash and radioed an alarm back to the airport.

William Martin, a member of the Broad Channel volunteer fire department, said: "There was an awfully loud explosion that actually shook the fire house building a half mile from the scene. There a few minutes later we could see heavy black smoke—a very thick column of it. It went about 150 feet into the air."

The Broad Channel and other fire companies in the area sent ambulances and fire apparatus.

Coast Guard helicopters and a city fireboat converged on the scene.

Arrangements will be announced by Oakcrest Funeral Service.

Jobless Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. L. Bland, state Employment Security Division administrator, said Wednesday the Ozark area of Franklin County has been designated by the federal government as an area having substantial and persistent unemployment. Under this classification, the area becomes eligible for special federal loans and grants.

The ESD estimates that approximately 9,000 persons had exhausted their benefits since the program began.

Under the program, the government extended the benefits for 13 weeks for persons who had used up their regular benefits.

The current program, which began in April, 1961, ends March 20.

Plane Burns in Swamp Near Idlewild Port

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Airlines jet liner crashed and burned in a marsh off Long Island's south shore today minutes after taking off for Los Angeles. Police said there were no survivors.

Thirty-two bodies had been recovered two hours after the plane suddenly turned left and plunged into the swamp.

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Airlines jet liner crashed and burned shortly after takeoff today, apparently killing all 95 persons aboard.

Coast Guardsmen at the scene just off the south shore of Long Island said they found no sign of survivors.

The tragedy came just as the city was about to give a joyful welcome to Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the astronaut who orbited the earth.

The plane, with 87 passengers and a crew members aboard, had taken off from Idlewild Airport for Los Angeles at 10:07 a.m. Glenn was due here at nearby LaGuardia Airport at 11:15 a.m.

The aircraft, a modernized Boeing 707 known as an Astrojet, crashed in a swampy area known as Broad Channel in Jamaica Bay off Far Rockaway in Queens. The area is just off the southern shore of Long Island.

The plane was half in the water and half on the marsh.

Huge clouds of smoke rose from the wreckage.

Witnesses said the plane climbed to about 700 feet from Idlewild, then turned left and plunged at a steep angle.

Some witnesses said they saw flames coming from the plane before the crash. Others did not, but the plane was in flames immediately after the impact.

The plane was known as "Flight No. 1."

By 11 a.m., the report from Coast Guardsmen at the scene was: "There is now only floating, smoking debris in the water."

Police at Idlewild said at the same time: "Apparently there were no survivors."

Mount Pleasant drubbed Wilmet

Casa took advantage of fine play by Ronnie May and Ronnie Hahard to secure a 14-point halftime margin and then poured it on.

In afternoon session, Amity pulled a late rush but Mount Judea held on determinedly and threw off the Amity full court press.

With less than 30 seconds remaining, Johnny Martin struck for two points from the charity line to ice it for Mount Judea.

JFK Asks $1 Billion for Recreation

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Kennedy recommended today a vast new land purchase program ranging up to $1 billion to provide more outdoor recreation for millions of Americans. The proposal was part of a broad plan aimed at protecting and expanding the country's natural resources.

In a special conservation message to Congress, Kennedy called for the creation of a land conservation fund to acquire recreational areas across the country.

Administration sources estimated buying would total between $800 million and $1 billion over the next eight years. Costs would be paid by people who use existing federal parks and outdoor facilities, through admission and other fees; by diversion of unclaimed motorboat fuel tax rebates from the highway trust fund and by receipts from the sale of surplus federal land.

While those funds build up, Kennedy recommended Treasury advances not exceeding $500 million for the eight-year span. He said Congress could make the money available by annual appropriations to the conservation fund and have it replaced by income from the fees and other sources.

Kennedy outlined the plan, fashioned from a study by his Outdoor Recreation Resources
Review Commission, in a lengthy message declaring the nation's conservation effort must cover
the entire spectrum of its resources.

The President defined conservation as "the wise use of our natural environment" and said, "It is, in the final analysis, the highest form of national thrift."

To evaluate past progress and plan for the future, Kennedy announced he would convene a White House conference on conservation sometime this year.

He promised the United States would continue to cooperate with other countries in scientific and research undertakings and share the techniques it develops—techniques such as making salt water fit to drink.

In the field of recreation, Kennedy asked Congress to establish a system of matching grants to help the states develop outdoor programs. He requested an additional $50 million to assist states and cities to acquire open spaces
for the recreation of urban area residents. And for the great outdoors, he urged Congress to pass controversial legislation introduced last year to preserve wilderness areas.

Kennedy again plugged for the program he submitted last summer to plan the most effective use of water resources to meet needs which he estimated will double by 1980 and triple by the end of the century. He said new measures are required to manage public and timber lands and to complete more watershed projects.

The President said he has directed Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to devise methods of dealing with serious erosion and river pollution caused by surface, or strip mining.

Palmer Plans to Go Ahead in Tourney

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) —
Despite ear infections that required a surgeon's lance, loss of equilibrium and a bad cold, defending champion Arnold Palmer promised to tee off in the $20,000
Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament today.

Palmer said infection drained from his ears Tuesday night after a doctor had lanced the abscesses.
He told a civic club luncheon Wednesday he felt better and intended to be on the firing line today.

But the doctor said he would advise Palmer to withdraw if conditions were wet and cold over the Baton Rouge Country Club today. The tournament got a bad break in the weather with a cold front bringing sub-freezing temperatures after weeks of spring warmth.

Should Palmer be unable to play, the big gallery expected Palmer back in action after his brief vacation from the tour. He skipped the Tucson and New Orleans tournaments to attend to business matters in Miami.

Should Palmer be forced to the sidelines, the favorite's role would fall to any of several players, including Bo Wininger, winner of the New Orleans Open last Sunday and titleholder here in 1955,
or Doug Sanders, or Bob Rosburg or Phil Rodgers, 23, the Californian who trails only Gene Littler in money earned on the 1962 tour.

Trapped by Water, Pair Is Rescued

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A helpless Ohio couple, trapped in their car which left U.S. Highway 67 Wednesday, was rescued after spending nearly two hours in dashboard-high water.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barago of Euclid, Ohio, en route home from California was unable to leave the car, they said, because of its tilling angle and the water pressure.

Hospital officials said the Baragas were cold and wet but otherwise escaped injury. They were treated and released.

The temperature at the time of the incident was a chilly 26 degrees.

The couple complained they saw no warning or detour sign but officials said two such signs are present. Officers said the road generally floods after a heavy rain.

Their car ended up in a ditch
which, at times, holds enough water to completely cover the car.

North Little Rock Police Chief said he guessed they drove into the ditch when the water blocked the view of highway's route.

The couple reported that a carload of Negroes passed and ignored their pleas for aid.

A wrecker finally was dispatched to the scene and pulled the car out. It was not known who summoned the help.

"I didn't think we'd ever get out of there alive," Mrs. Baraga
said.

Gerald Sisk, assistant maintenance engineer for the state Highway Department, said the question of whether to raise the highway level had been discussed but the problem will be solved upon completion of Interstate Highway 30
and 40.

Life Seems Strange in TV Land

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The American television viewing public can be forgiven if they start thinking that houses are for hens and offices for secretaries.

When a network foreign news correspondent wants to read his report on current events, he straps himself into his trench coat and stations himself in front of the Arc de Triomphe or with a background view of the Thames (preferably in the rain) and begins to talk.

When intense coverage of Lt.
Col. John H. Glenn's space trip was in progress, correspondent Roy Neal of NBC was stationed—for no apparent reason—at a large desk set in the middle of an open field. CBS' Walter Cronkite, dripping wires and microphones, was just standing—apparently without benefit of notes or assistants—in what looked like a bill of abandoned farmland.

When the White House has any news bulletins to impart, the importer is usually standing in front of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Even the commercials are imbued with the spirit of the great outdoors. Most cigarettes are smoked at beach picnics and it is on or near beaches that pretty girls have their worst experiences with bad breath. Models shampoo their hair in front of old Greek temples and currently there is a girl taking a bath in an ordinary tub set in the midst of a ferny glade.

Paradoxically, most automobiles are exhibited on turntables
in what looks like grand ballrooms of hotels.

That's life in TV-land.

CBS won't do any talking, but it looks pretty definite that Marshall Dillon will be losing Chester next season. Dennis Weaver, who has played the comedy side-kick role for seven long seasons, was in New York last weekend taping
a 45-minute sample of a show called "TV Tonight" which CBS is thinking of putting into a late evening weekly spot.

Although science-fiction programs haven't done very well on television to date, show packagers are considering series based on space explorations. One of the first will be tried out next season
on "The Dick Powell Show."

9 Indicted for Income Tax Invasion

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A federal grand jury returned nine indictments Wednesday against department store executive Harry N.
Pollock, his wife and secretary concerning income tax returns.

Three of the indictments alleged Pollock and his wife failed to pay $302,008.41 in income taxes due for 1955-56-57. Three were against Pollock and Miss Emily Shoffey, secretary of Pollock Stores, Inc., and three indicted Miss Shoffey for allegedly aiding and abetting in preparation and filing of fraudulent returns.

Pollock and Miss Shoffey each posted $10,000 bonds while Pollock's wife posted a $3,000 bond.
Each refused to comment on the indictments.

U.S. Atty. Charles Conway said a $685,364 difference existed between what Pollock showed as business and personal income and what the government says he should have reported for the years covered by the indictment.

During the three-year period,
Pollock reported personal income of $62,622.74 and paid $17,262.80 in taxes.

Conway said the government contents Pollock's income was $499,424.30 with $319,271.21 due in taxes.

Earlier this year U.S. District Judge John E. Miller ordered Pollock, Miss Shoffey and Jack Sobel,
a Pollock Stores official, to show cause why they should not be tired for contempt in refusing to turn over company financial records.

This was later revoked and Miller said they were not guilty because there was no proof that the questioned records existed.

The 70-year-old Pollock resigned in December as treasurer of the Arkansas Republican Party.

The company has department and furniture stores in Oklahoma
as well as at Fayetteville and Fort Smith in Arkansas.

Resignations Predicted by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he expects "two or three" resignations from state boards and commissions because of the Arkansas Supreme Court's decision in the Parkin case.

Faubus said, however, he did not want to name the persons resigning until they take formal action.

The Supreme Court ruled Monday that state printing contracts
held by the Parkin Printing Co., were invalid because the firm's president, Harry W. Parkin, is a member of the Highway Commission. The decision said no board or commission member could sell printing, printing supplies or fuel oil to the state under a constitutional prohibition.

Parkin has not yet said whether he will resign rather than miss a chance at state business. More than $900,000 worth of contracts were invalidated by the court ruling.

In news conference comments
on other current issues, Faubus
said:
He realizes truckers have a problem with the state's low weight limits but his office doesn't have the remedy. "This is something they (truckers) will have to

Pentecost Church Man Files Suit

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) —
Another member of the Pentecostal Church filed suit Wednesday
against the Hot Springs School Board in a controversy over required polo shots.

A suit brought by Homer Bates
in the name of his daughter, Linda Kay Bates, alleges a school board ruling which makes polo shots mandatory for all students violates Constitutional rights.

Bates says the shots conflict with the religious teachings of his church.

Bates, in the suit, says also that the board forced his daughter out of school. The suit asks a permanent injunction against enforcement of the board's ruling.

A previous suit brought on the same charge by the parents of 12 students was dismissed when Chancellor Sam W. Garratt held the board's regulations to be reasonable.

take up with the Legislature and the Highway Department."

"Truckers have complained recently they can't make a profit
when loads are limited to the 55, 000 pounds set by Arkansas law."

He would prefer some kind of public workers program to help unemployment rather than a Washington move to extend unemployment benefits. Faubus said paying people not to work encourages
"a habit of loafing."

Faubus also had a barbed reply to a remark former Gov. Sid McMath made at a luncheon speech Wednesday. McMath said Arkansas needs a more stable political atmosphere and Faubus retorted: "Does he wish to cite his administration as an example of what we should have?"

The Female of the Species

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I will soon be 18 and the girls in my school grow wider every year. They wear their skirts skin tight and smoke, drink and swear more than most boys.

I've been going with the same boy two years and care too much for him to change myself that way. He and the other boys honestly don't like girls who drink and smoke and cuss but, as one said, "What's a guy going to do when there aren't enough of the good old country-girl type to go around?"

Then they want to know why I think it's because most girls' parents just don't care enough to hold their daughters down and keep them at home. Perhaps these wild girls need a little more parental love. Do you agree? —Quiet

Dear Helen: The number of young girls who do smoke, cuss and drink is on the increase. Some shock even me, a reporter who has seen about everything there is to see.

Yet none of these kids are really bad at heart. In most cases, a broken home is at the root of the trouble. Plagued by insecurity, the youngsters become bold, over-assertive exhibitionists.

I feel like putting an arm around them and saying, "Now, look, you already have my attention. Calm down. Be your own sweet self and people will like you all the better." Actually such girls are desperately striving for attention and hungry for love of the right kind.

Dear Helen: I was your admirer until you said that 14-year-old girls were too young to date. I am 14 and have been allowed to attend dances and shows with friends. But my mother goes by what you say and now I'm stuck at home. For Pete's sake, give us teen-age girls a break!

Maybe you had no fun when you were a girl but that's no reason for me to miss a good time too. Me and my friends believe a 14-year-old girl will only learn the difference between right and wrong but judging from my mail, mightily few are adult enough to control their emotions.

Dear Helen: I am a reader of your column and I like the understanding and patience you show in answering the problems of teenagers. It isn't every kid who can take his or her worries to their parents and that is where you come in. Kids like myself have a lot of respect and faith in you.

—Mary Ann Salazar, 2829 Calabazas Boulevard, Santa Clara, Calif.

Dear Mary Ann: One letter like yours, more than make up for the occasional dead cat hurled in my direction. The problems of teenagers are every bit as real to me as those of grownups. The advice I give them is for their own good, though some may think otherwise. I'm no prude but I have seen what can happen to even the nicest of kids if turned loose before they're old enough to know the answers.

Opposition to Health Bill Mounts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders built new defenses today against a drive by President Kennedy to get congressional action on his proposal for a program of medical care for the elderly linked to Social Security.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois came up with figures on Illinois operations of the Kerr-Mills federal-state medical aid plan in support of his contention that Congress ought to delay any decision on the Kennedy program.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., cited what he called Kennedy's "sound objectives." But he said the President must make it clear to the country "the administration is looking for a law this year, not an issue in the fall elections."

Javits called for a compromise which he said would preserve private and cooperative health plans and cover those not under Social Security.

Dirksen said he thinks the majority of Republicans in Congress believe that, with some amendments, the Kerr-Mills Act passed by Congress in 1960 can take care of needy elderly persons for hospitalization and medical expenses.

"Twenty-six states have put this plan in operation, and 12 legislatures will deal with it this year," Dirksen said in an interview. "It is moving along tolerably well, and it should do the job when we can get the bugs out of it."

Dirksen quoted figures from Illinois to support his case for the Kerr-Mills Act.

He said that from August to December 1961, 675 applications for assistance had been approved in Illinois, 460 were pending, and 624 were denied. He said the average payment was $495 a person.

Dirksen added he intends to introduce an amendment to the law under which applicants would be required to sign only a statement of need and not to "pauperize" themselves.

At present aid is available to persons whose income does not exceed $1,000 a year or $2,000 for a couple.

Opponents have contended Kennedy's plan, which would call for a $1-billion increase in Social Security payroll taxes, would provide assistance for many persons who do not need financial aid.

Although Democratic leaders said after a White House conference Tuesday that chances for congressional action on the presidential plan are looking up, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., spotlighted the administration's difficulties with an appeal for two Republican votes in the House Ways and Means Committee.

That committee, which has 15 Democratic and 10 Republican members, thus far has failed to move on the medical care issue. There remained doubts that the votes necessary to overcome conservative Democratic opposition to the bill within the group.

Burglary Ring Is Broken Up

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Sheriff Lonnie Cooper said today a four-county burglary ring had been broken up with arrest of six Hickory Ridge residents.

The sheriff said the arrests were made during the past two or three days.

Deputy Prosecutor Gerald Pearson said he would file burglary and grand larceny charges against all six.

Cooper said each of the six was implicated in one or more of 11 recent burglaries in Craighead, Poinsett, Cross and Jackson counties. Hickory Ridge is in Cross County.

Arrested were Johnnie Mullins, 20; Ray Mullins, 16; Terry Lane, 16; Grafton Crouch, 16; Henry Crouch, 20, and Tom Leonard, 35.

Cooper said Johnnie Mullins recently was released from a federal reformatory where he was sentenced for his part in a 1957 robbery of the Bank of Weiner.

Cooper said Poinsett, Jackson and Cross county officers co-operated with his office in the investigation.

Republican Meet Set April 15-17

Worker Wounded by Rifle Bullet

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A laborer was seriously wounded by a rifle bullet last night at Russellville and two persons are being held in the Pope County jail pending an investigation.

Gene Rankin, chief deputy sheriff, said Ted Flannery, 35, of Russellville was shot in the abdomen. Rankin said Mary Perkins, about 45 and Luther Mann 38, of Dover also a laborer, are being held in connection with the shooting.

Rankin said Mrs. Perkins told deputies that Flannery and Mann came to her home about 5 miles north of Russellville last night and tried to attack her, but she chased them away.

Rankin said she told him that the two men returned about three hours later and Flannery knocked on the door. The deputy said Mrs. Rankin told him she shot through the door with a .22 caliber rifle, hitting Flannery.

Flannery was brought to Russellville by Mann Rankin said. He said no charges had been placed against any of the trio.

Cepeda Asks Salary Be Doubled

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)—Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco Giants slugger is demanding $60,000, or twice his 1961 salary.

This was disclosed at an unusual press conference Wednesday, at which Giants President Horace Stoneham gave exact figures - a precedent-shattering move.

"I have no objection to telling just what a player's salary is," said Stoneham.

Manager Alvin Dark, with Stoneham's authorization, said Cepeda, 24, earned $30,000 last year, when he led the National League in home runs with 46. Previous estimates had placed his salary at $27,500.

It was also disclosed the Giants were offering him $42,500 for 1962. Dark added that Stoneham would like to divulge everyone's salary but won't because other major-league owners would be reluctant to make such disclosures.

"It is not our intention to make Orlando look bad at all. Neither do we want the club placed in a bad light. Our only intention is to set the facts straight," explained Dark.

Despite the asking price of $60,000, the Giants' mentor says he won't start worrying about Cepeda until March 15.

Cepeda hit .311 last year, the seventh best mark in the loop and highest among the Giants. He drove in 142 runs, also a National League high.

OUR ANCESTORS

by Quincy

Wednesday night and Jay said he would make up his mind whether to accept it on Friday.

Elsewhere, outfielder Jim Lemon of the Minnesota Twins, who may have learned last year what an extended holdout can mean, continued to impress his manager and coaches with his slugging at Orlando. Fla. Lemon rapped 38 home runs and drove in 100 runs in 1960. Last season he held out for 17 days and never did get into stride after he reported, winding up with 14 home runs and 52 RBI.

W. Virginia Has to Prove It All Over
By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

West Virginia and Wake Forest, which won their respective conference races, now have to do it all over again in order to gain first berths in the NCAA Eastern regional basketball tournament - and it isn't going to be easy for either of them.

The Southern Conference tournament opens in Richmond, Va., and the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament at Raleigh, N.C. today with the eventual winners gaining the NCAA tourney spots.

West Virginia, 21-5 over-all and 12-1 in the Southern, probably will gain the favorite role at Richmond, but can expect trouble. Wake Forest, 12-2 in the ACC and 15-8 over-all, has its work cut out at Raleigh. Duke, 19-4 over-all, second in the ACC and ranked eighth in the nation, is in the field. Wake Forest must beat.

Tenth-ranked Utah can assure itself of at least a share of the Skyline title if it beats Colorado State U. tonight. That, however, may prove difficult. Colorado State (10-2 in the league) owns a 74-69 triumph over Utah in a previous match. Utah is 10-1 in the league and 21-3 over-all going in. Utah State, also 10-2 in the league, will try to keep pace against Denver.

None of the ranked teams were in action Wednesday night, and only a sorry record set by Syracuse enlivened the light schedule. The Orangemen fell before Niagara 86-59 for their 27th consecutive loss over a two-season span, an NCAA major school record for successive defeats. It topped the previous record of 26 in a row by Georgia Tech.

In other major games, St. Joseph's (Pa.) mauled St. Peter's (N.J.) 99-72 and Temple had an easy time of it, 75-60 over Penn State in a Philadelphia doubleheader; Dayton took Miami of Ohio 63-52; and Oklahoma scored a 63-42 Big Eight victory over Kansas.

Rocky Wants $50,000 This Season

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rocky Colavito, the slugging Detroit outfielder, got $35,000; is offered a reported $42,500, wants "over $50,000."

Orlando Cepeda, the San Francisco Giants' National League home run champ, got $30,000, is offered $42,500, wants $60,000.

Joey Jay, 21-game winner of the Cincinnati Reds, got $15,000 is offered $25,000, wants $30,000.

That's the status of the three major holdouts in major league baseball today.

Colavito, who became an official holdout Wednesday, remains at his home in Temple, Pa.

"I think what I am asking is very reasonable," he said. "So does my wife. The trouble is the Tiger management and I differ in opinion on what is a reasonable increase." Last year, Colavito rapped 45 home runs, drove in 140 runs and batted .280.

The Giants, stung by estimates that Cepeda earned $27,500 last season - when he batted .311, hit 46 home runs and drove in 142 runs, broke precedent Wednesday and revealed he made $30,000.

Manager Al Dark said reports that Cepeda has been offered $42,500 for this year were just about right.

Jay, who never had won more than nine games in a season before, has five working oil wells in West Virginia and is threatening to concentrate on them at the expense of baseball unless his $15,000 salary is doubled. General Manager Bill Dewitt of the Reds made a counter-offer of $25,000.

Berg's Stable Shows Three Winners

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) - Marion H. Van Berg's stable showed three winners at Oaklawn Park Wednesday in a day of racing featuring a disqualification and a jockey being fined.

The Van Berg winners included Severn in the $3,500 Fraternal Order of Police purse.

Also winning under the Van Berg colors were Imastar in the second race and Miss Goliad in the fifth.

A smallish Wednesday crowd of 5,577 braved frigid weather to bet $369,811.

Diamond Stable's Nizami's Image was ruled the sixth race winner after Oaklawn stewards said "Frank Doda, which finished in front by a length and a quarter, had interfered with Nizami's Image in the stretch."

Jockey Noah Atchley was fined $50 for slopping his two-year-old mount, Miss Claremore, which won in the first race and paid $11 straight.

Racing rules prohibit jockeys from striking a two-year-old with either a whip or hand.

Nine three-year-olds, some of them pointing for the $25,000 added Arkansas Derby, face a qualifying test today when they meet in the $2,700 Garland County Restaurants purse, feature

Wednesday night and Jay said he would make up his mind whether to accept it on Friday.

Elsewhere, outfielder Jim Lemon of the Minnesota Twins, who may have learned last year what an extended holdout can mean, continued to impress his manager and coaches with his slugging at Orlando. ## Prices Set on School Buses

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Education Department set maximum prices today at which school bus chassis and bodies may be bought by local school boards. J. L. Eidson, supervisor of school transportation, said the chassis prices range from $1,732 to $3,782 and body prices range from $1,950 to $2,861. Arkansas schools spend about $1 million a year on such equipment.

Egg King Day with an Egg Queen handing out recipe booklets. Some 90 dozen Grade AA eggs will be given as prizes during the 10 days, at the Omelet Day, and on a feature on KXAR. One of the highlights of Good Egg Days will be the selection of the "Good Egg of '62," with a trophy to be awarded the winner. You'll find ballots at egg dealers around Hope.

Labor Issue Is Feather Bedding

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Featherbedding becomes a sharper labor issue today because of the current battle for job security.

The question becomes part of union resistance to automation. And what management fears as featherbedding (paying two or more for doing the work of one) means something else to many workers—sharing the available jobs or assuring safety if something goes wrong with the machine or its lone operator.

In the public mind featherbedding is a term long linked with railroad. But of late management in many other industries have complained that the practice is widespread and growing. This

IRA to Quit Fighting as Terrorists

By COLIN FROST

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Both sides of the Irish border welcomed today the underground Irish Republican Army's announcement that it had abandoned its terrorist war to unite the island. But Northern Ireland's government, target of the outlawed IRA's attacks, said it will keep its guard up.

The IRA declared its peace in copies of a statement slipped on to front counters of Dublin newspaper offices Monday night.

The 1,000-word statement said the IRA members had called a halt to five years of bombing and shooting attacks and had thrown away their arms.

The IRA admitted it had received little support from the Irish people and blamed public apathy on government muzzling of the press. It said the IRA would embark on a campaign to keep Ireland out of involvement in European alliances which it said might lead the country into war.

Charles Haughey, minister of justice of the Irish republic, called the IRA decision good news and said the underground's terrorism "was a policy which Irish public opinion had decisively rejected."

In Northern Ireland, which gives its allegiance to the British crown, Minister for Home Affairs Brian Faulkner said the IRA statement "is of course welcome." The tragedy is that these misguided people who have carried on a futile campaign for five years have taken so long to realize its hopelessness.

He added "until it is seen that the campaign is in fact ended, our own people can be assured that security precautions will be maintained."

The IRA is an underground descendant of the Irish revolutionary forces which won independence from Britain for the southern 26 counties between 1916 and 1922. The northern six counties remain part of the United Kingdom.

Since the IRA renewed its terrorism five years ago, scores have been killed in skirmishes on the northern border, bombings and ambushes. Security measures for an all-Ireland population of four million are estimated to have cost $4.2 million a year.

The republican government has kept 800 police in full-time operation against the IRA. Northern Ireland maintains strong border garrisons reinforced by troops from England.

Last fall's elections routed the IRA's political arm, the Sinn Fein party. Prime Minister Sean Lemass, who believes Irish unity can best be achieved through European unity, embarked on a determined campaign to crush the IRA.

goes all the way from factory production lines to Broadway, where producers complain that union rules call for standby stagehands and musicians, who shift little if any scenery, play few if any notes.

The fight to cut costs by elimination of jobs that management regards as unneeded is likely to be bitter.

That was evident when some labor leaders attacked a presidential commission's recommendations on revising railroad labor rules two days before the report was submitted to the President.

They said the report, reaching the White House today, would mean loss of more jobs at a time when rail employment has been shrinking.

It has been declining for a number of reasons. One is the drop in rail business because of increased competition from trucks, buses, autos, barges and planes. Another is that automation and other technical advances let machines and electronic devices perform work in the yards and on the road that men once did.

When workers who once did these jobs are kept on the payroll, management calls it featherbedding. The commission would give the railroads the right to eliminate such jobs gradually and thus further reduce the payroll.

Naturally the men who would lose these jobs don't like it. They thus join the multitude of others who are complaining about the inroads of automation.

Among these are the Steelworkers now hammering out a new contract with management. They contend that mechanization of the steel mills is costing jobs. Among the remedies suggested are a shorter work week, longer vacations, early retirement incentives, more benefits for those laid off, all of which would either share the available jobs or ease the pangs of enforced idleness.

Pills, Pills in Focus on Health

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The growing popularity of pills and a widespread drive to cut deaths from sudden heart standstill figure in the medical news. Pills, Pills, Pills

A New Hampshire doctor believes medical personnel in hospitals are over-using tranquilizers, sleeping pills, laxatives—and even X rays.

Dr. Wic L. Bong of Hanover held up this picture for young doctors and medical students:

Apprehensive relatives of injured persons in the emergency room are given "indiscriminate shots of tranquilizers" to calm them even though the patients' injuries are minor in many cases.

At 10 p.m. a nurse makes the rounds of patients who have been sleeping most of the day asking if anyone wants a sleeping pill.

Laxatives are "being devoured by the gallons" because patients aren't told that lack of normal action for a day or two won't do any harm.

Writing in the New Physician, the journal of the Student American Medical Association, Dr. Bong said, "In my opinion all this misuse can be corrected if we, the doctors, are willing to take out a little time and effort for explanation to those of the public who are willing to listen."

Drowning, electric shock, strangulation, suffocation and severe reactions to anesthesia can cause hearts to stop beating. Many of these patients survive if the heart resumes beating—or is forced to do its work—within 4 to 6 minutes.

Opening the chest wall and squeezing the heart by hand was the only survival aid available until researchers found that external pressure on the breast bone squeezed the heart against the backbone and forced it to pump blood into the arteries.

The technique requires no special equipment and can be used anywhere.

Smith Kline & French Laboratories, in cooperation with the Johns Hopkins medical institutions, has completed a film designed to train physician-directed rescue teams to perform the resuscitation measure safely and effectively.

Several Hurt in 17-Car Derailment

EWISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train today plowed into the wreckage of a freight train which had derailed almost simultaneously. Three diesel locomotives and 17 of 18 cars of the passenger train derailed, injuring at least nine persons.

The passenger train, the Pennsylvania Limited No. 55, was bound from New York to Chicago when the accident occurred 23 miles east of this central Pennsylvania community.

Ambulances took seven of the injured to Lewistown Hospital and two others to the Black Community Hospital here. A spokesman at Lewistown Hospital said only one person there appeared to be seriously injured.

Railroad spokesmen said the passenger train carried some 100 passengers and a crew of 21.

Railroad spokesmen said the locomotives of the passenger train upset but the passenger cars remained in an upright position.

The spokesman said a burned-out journal might have caused the freight train to derail. Twelve cars of the Chicago to New York freight left the track. About 2,000 feet of track on both the passenger and freight trains were torn up. The passenger train did not have a chance to stop, the spokesman said.

The engineer of the passenger train was identified as S. D. Miller, of Altoona, Pa. He suffered a fractured leg, the spokesman said.

Dorothy Schlossberg, 45, of Wilmette, Ill., who was taken to Black Hospital for treatment of a bruised leg and X rays said she had her eyes half shut when "I heard this jar and it all happened so fast."

"It was quite a jar," she said. "But there was no panic."

The spokesman said the passenger train left New York at 10 p.m. and Philadelphia at 11:32. It was due to arrive in Chicago at 3:25 p.m. today. The accident occurred at 2:50 a.m.

Wreck trains were sent to the scene.

An eastbound passenger train picked up the passengers from the wrecked train and took them to Tyrone where they were met by a relief train from Harrisburg which took them on westward.

Chapter 22

"Good evening, everybody."

Hilda looked up to see Race coming into the drawing room with a slightly overconfident air. "I told Saunders not to bother to announce me."

"Instinctively, Hilda looked back to see Jenny's reaction, but Jenny was already on her feet, her face set and cold.

"Excuse me, Aunt Judith. I think I'll have something sent to my room. I don't care for the air in here."

And she swept past Race without so much as a glance.

Hilda saw that Uncle George was actually smiling. It was a phenomenon she would have liked time to study, but she murmured that perhaps she'd better go to Jenny.

Jenny was back on her window seat, turned away from the room. She didn't acknowledge Hilda's presence and Hilda didn't speak. She rang for Isobel, and when the maid appeared, Hilda told her casually that they had decided to dine up here, after all, and would Isobel please have two trays made up?

When the trays came, Hilda persuaded Jenny to, at least, try the soup. But every mouthful seemed to choke her and, suddenly, she threw down her spoon and fled into her dressing room, slamming the door.

Hilda looked doubtfully at the closed door and half started to it, when she stopped, thinking she had heard a tapping noise. It came again, a slight metallic sound she had heard before.

She went to the window and threw it open to look out. There was nothing to be seen, but the tapping came again. Presently, a thought occurred to her and she felt carefully around and under the window sill. She found a hook and then a cord. Hand over hand, she pulled it in. Almost at the end of the gold cord was the gold kitten Race had given Jenny long ago at the skating party.

Hilda saw it was larger than most bracelet charms, and it had a thin line of separation, so that it must open like a locket. She tried her finger nail along the edge, the chain flew open and a small piece of paper fell out in her hand. She could see the tail end of some handwriting.

Hilda smiled. She remembered the ball of gold string in Jenny's work basket, and the quotation about a golden ball from "Jerusalem."

"Give me that," Jenny said behind her so abruptly that Hilda jumped.

"Yes, of course," She held it out, looking at Jenny.

Jenny tore the little paper across and across and dropped the pieces on the fire.

Will laid down his pen and pushed aside his papers to receive the lunch tray Halbert had brought.

He rattled his dishes while he watched Midgely's new daily pantomime. Every line of the man's body was tense, as he waited for Albert to leave. Then, quickly, furtively, he felt through the folds of his napkin. Whatever he'd hoped to find had never materialized, for Midgely's shoulders had dropped. But, today, Will saw the inkstained fingers suddenly clutch.

With a sideways glance that almost caught Will, Midgely withdrew his hand and Will heard the rustle of unfolding paper.

Will watched for some time, with no other reward than the sight of Midgely frequently re-reading the note and following this with lengthy, enigmatic sighs. So often did he peruse the note, he began to use it as a page marker for his ledger.

Midgely left his desk and went

Fish Chowder Is Good 'Chow'

FOR A FAMILY SUPPER ON SUNDAY NIGHT . . . or any other night . . . a big bowl of Cod and Vegetable chowder is hard to beat. Here's one to stick to, the ribs, its principal ingredients Birds Eye frozen cod fillets and mixed garden vegetables and of course plenty of hot, heartening milk and cream. With a mixed salad and toasted English muffins this is a meal to remember.

COD AND VEGETABLE CHOWDER

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 1/2 cups salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme
- 1/2 cup water
- 4 cups milk
- 1 package (12 ounces) quick-frozen cod fillets
- 1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen mixed garden vegetables
- 1 cup light cream

Melt butter in large saucepan. Add onion and celery and saute until onion is transparent. Add flour, salt, pepper, and thyme; blend well. Gradually stir in water and milk. Cut fish fillets in half. Add to milk mixture along with the mixed vegetables. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Then reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally to break up the fish. Just before serving, stir in cream and heat thoroughly. Makes 8 1/2 cups, enough for 8 servings, about 1 cup each or 12 servings, about 3/4 cup each.

Note: For a richer chowder, reduce milk to 2 1/2 cups, increase cream to 2 cups, and reduce salt to 2 teaspoons.

Business Has No Kindness for February

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be few mourners when February departs. But in business circles there rarely are. About the kindest thing those in industry, transportation, trade or the stock market ever say about February is that it's uncertain.

And this year March promises to bring along a full bag of uncertainties, too.

Yet, measured by any other yardstick than high hopes, January and February haven't been too bad at all for business—when ever a few days of respite were slipped into the prolonged string of foul weather.

Economists who are trying to decide if the economy is still going ahead at a respectable pace or has been slowed to a walk or worse may have to wait until some of the March uncertainties are resolved.

The chief one is in Pittsburgh where contract talks between steel labor and management are progressing—unusually pleasantly, if you believe one source, and haltingly, if you believe another.

What terms are reached, and how soon, will tell a lot about the chances of 1962 still living up to the high hopes held for it last December in many quarters, chiefly official.

The steel talks could end with a modest wage boost and little or no price rise; or with a sizable price rise; or, worst of all, with a strike. Settlement could be reached quickly, nipping off the present tendency to build up stocks as a strike hedge; or it could be dragged out, setting off a real rush to stock up, that could only mean a big letdown later.

And until we know, it'll be hard to say what's ahead, since steel is still regarded by most of the

into the small lavatory off the office. Without giving himself time for thought, Will was out of his chair, had whipped the paper from its spot and read its short contents.

He left a moment after Midgely returned. It was early to go to bed, but he'd decided to tell his story to Mr. Matthew.

At once, Matthew Russell's eyes were snapping with excitement. "Why didn't you tell me sooner!" He was almost hopping in his chair. "I could've told you that maid of Judith's been fooling around with Race Nash this past year. I told you to look out for his tricks, didn't I?"

"Not exactly, sir," Will said mildly. "And I had no way of knowing about the maid and Race. I thought she must be teasing Midgely. Having a little fun, getting the poor fool worked up, the way a pretty girl will."

"Yes, yes," Mr. Matthews agreed irritably. "But you're forgetting. Suppose Midgely's already in on the game? If Race is trying to cut himself in, could be plenty of trouble and scandal."

"Then why don't you speak to Mr. Russell?" Will asked.

Mr. Matthew looked away. "And have him get all fussed and start stuttering and spluttering? No. We've got to keep this to ourselves, till we know more about it."

Nominations for Awards in Filmland

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— "West Side Story" and "Judgment at Nuremberg" took top honors in the Academy Award nominations today, with 11 mentions apiece.

The "Hustler" followed these two hard views of modern life with nine nominations. It was youth versus maturity in the races for male star performances. Charles Boyer of "Fanny" and Spencer Tracey of "Judgment at Nuremberg" found themselves contending with three newcomers—Paul Newman for "The Hustler"; Maximilian Schell, "Judgment at Nuremberg"; and Stuart Whitman, "The Mark."

It was a youthful race all the way with the ladies:

Audrey Hepburn, "Breakfast at Tiffany's"; Piper Laurie, "The Hustler"; Sophia Loren, "Two Women"; Geraldine Page, "Summer and Smoke"; and Natalie Wood, "Splendor in the Grass."

"West Side Story," "Judgment at Nuremberg" and "The Hustler" were nominated for best picture of the year, along with two lighter amusements, "Fanny" and "Guns of Navarone."

Among the other major nominations:

Best supporting actor—George Chakiris, "West Side Story"; Montgomery Clift, "Judgment at Nuremberg"; Peter Falk, "Pocketful of Miracles"; Jackie Gleason, "The Hustler"; George C. Scott, "The Hustler."

Best supporting actress—Fay Bainter, "The Childrens Hour"; Judy Garland, "Judgment at Nuremberg"; Lottie Lenya, "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone"; Una Merkel, "Summer and Smoke"; Rita Moreno, "West Side Story."

Best direction—J. Lee Thompson, "The Guns of Navarone"; Robert Rossen, "The Hustler"; Stanley Kramer, "Judgment at Nuremberg"; Frederick Zelinski, "La Dolce Vita"; Robert Wise and Jerome Robbins, "West Side Story."

Best song—"Moon River," from "Breakfast at Tiffany's"; and the title songs from "Bachelor in Paradise," "El Cid," "Pocketful of Miracles" and "Town Without Pity."

The nominations were voted by 2,500 members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, who select final winners March 31.

Girl Wants to Be U. S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)— Joan L. Steves, 26, a slim, pretty brunette from Ohio, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday she feels she has a very good chance of becoming an ambassador some day.

It might require her to "work a little harder" than her male colleagues in the foreign service but she doesn't anticipate any discrimination against her because of her sex, she told Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

She and five other newcomers to the foreign service were questioned at a public session. They represented a sample of approximately 120 nominees for their first diplomatic assignments. The committee questioned them to get an idea of what this country's future ambassadors look like and talk like.

The others questioned were James R. Cheek, 25, Little Rock, Ark., Carroll R. McKibbin, 24, Guthrie Center, Iowa, Don R. Kienzle, 24, Orleans, Mass., Ralph P. Gallagher, 22, Bound Brook, N.J. and Donald J. Walsh, 26, Evergreen Park, Ill.

On the basis of their testimony, the committee approved the whole class of 120 for confirmation by the Senate later in the week.

Young Cheek, married and the father of a four-year-old daughter, expects to go to Santiago, Chile, some time in April. He testified he has "a deep and abiding interest" in good international relations and hopes to be helpful in improving them.

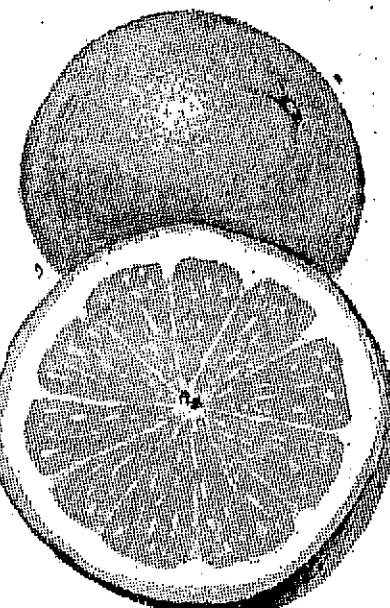

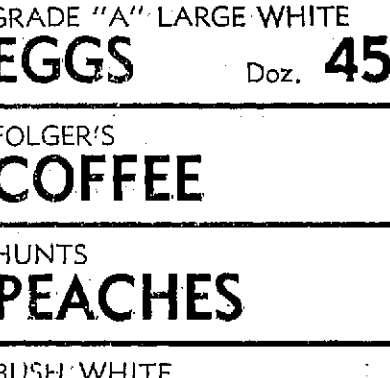

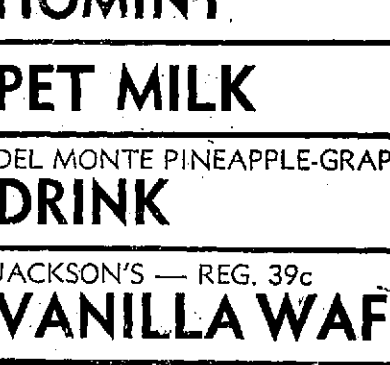

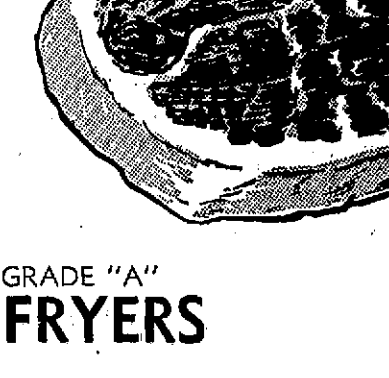

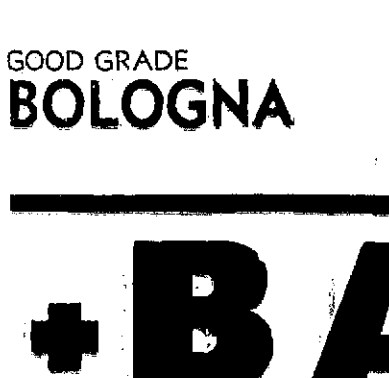

He proved his diplomatic talent when Fulbright asked his comment on present international policies.

"I have a lot of thoughts about them, but no comments I would like to pass on now," he replied, adding he still is trying to learn all he can.

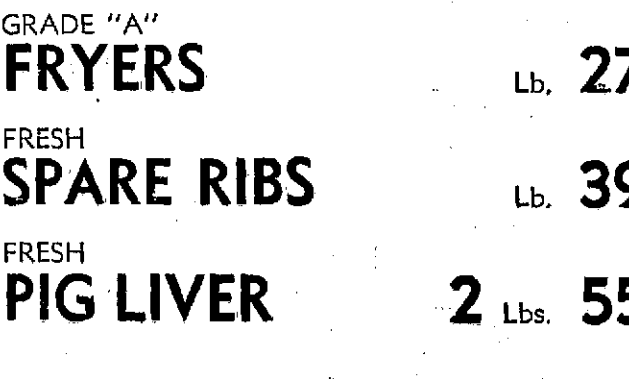

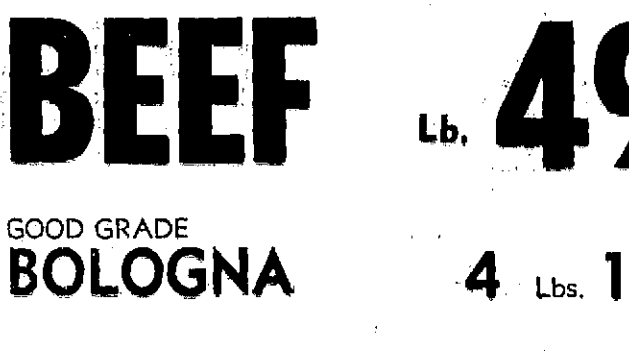

public, at least, as basic to the economy, and its wage settlements as pattern-setting.

But meantime consumers have gone right on spending, when the weather lets them get to the stores. And factories in general have gone on producing at a good pace, if a little slower than in December. Consumers may be spending more of their money on services that some makers of appliances or builders of homes might like. But they are far from going on a strike. And the total amount they have to spend should get even larger when outdoor jobs open up again.
